FTA's TEST Announces Launch of Howard Vreeland Sr. Virtual Campus

Bryan, OH - At the Flexographic Technical Association's (FTA) Annual Awards Banquet held May 2 during the Association's Annual Forum, Joe Tuccitto, FTA/FFTA Education Director announced the launch of the Howard Vreeland Sr. Virtual Campus. The campus, made possible through a generous investment by Anderson & Vreeland, Inc., is designed solely for educators to access FTA's TEST (Technical Education Services Team) authored courses.

In his opening statement at the Banquet, Joe Tuccitto said, "Over the past few years, TEST has worked diligently in the development of the TEST Virtual Campus. Today it provides countless industry professionals with ongoing professional development opportunities via the Internet. While this has proved an invaluable delivery mechanism for the industry as a whole, the new campus will address the needs specific to the world of academia.”

Bettylyn Kraft, chair of the Phoenix Challenge Foundation, added, “For decades A&V has been passionately involved in flexo education.” She challenged listeners to “Walk into any high school, college or university and you will be hard pressed to find plate making equipment and supplies without the A&V logo!”

For almost 50 years A&V has helped the flexo industry achieve sustained growth by providing its customers with the finest printing materials and equipment available worldwide.
